[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Bids for the construction of the proposed breakwater at San Pedro were opened at noon in the office of Maj. Charles E. L. B.
Davis of the United States Engineer Corps, in the Flood Building.

The room was crowded with contractors, who, notebooks and pencils in hand, anxiously recorded the figures read out by Maj. Davis and carefully recorded by his assistants.
In all, seventeen bids were presented,
there being represented some of the largest and most prominent contracting firms in this country.

The work to be done, as called for in the specifications, is the building of a jetty or breakwater. The contractors were allowed the privilege of furnishing their own material, provided from any source they saw fit, or of bidding on rock to be taken from the San Clemente quarry, a government reservation. Most of the bids included both propositions, it being noticeable that in each instance there was quite a marked reduction where the rock was to be taken from the San Clemente quarry.

One or two of the contractors bid only on the San Clemente quarry; others preferred to furnish their own material.
In explanation of the bids, it may be added that four classifications were required, as follows: The foundation course, the substructure, the superstructure and the concrete work.

Three of the courses are required to be built of rock, the only difference being in the dimensions of the respective strata, the foundation of course being wider than the substructure,
and the substructure, in turn,
being a little wider than the superstructure. The concrete is a classification by itself.

It is generally supposed, in this instance, that, following the usual custom, the contract will be let to the lowest bidder. However, the final disposition of the matter will depend upon the efficiency of the bond of-fired by the successful bidder.

Maj. Davis will recommend that the firm whose bid proves to be the lowest be awarded the contract. He will determine this point, but the rest will depend upon the decision of the Secretary of War.

It will require much calculation to determine whose bid was the lowest.
To determine the total amount bid
in each instance, it will be necessary to multiply the bid per ton for foundation, by 136,026 tons; the bid on the substructure by 1,933,603 tons; the bid on the superstructure by 221,025 tons; and the bid on the concrete by 2370 tons. The concrete is computed to cubic yards, the other courses by the long ton.

The total amounts of the various details of the proposed improvements called for by the specifications were as follows:
Foundation, 136,026 tons; substructure,
1,933,603 tons; superstructure, 221,025 tons; concrete, 2370 cubic yards.

The bids in detail were:
Knash & Gillen, Racine, Wis.:
Foundation, $1.07 per ton; substructure,
$1.07; superstructure, $3; concrete, per cubic yard, $6.
Hingston & Sylvester, Buffalo, N. Y.: Own rock, foundation, 70 cents;
substructure, 51 cents; superstructure,
$1.90; concrete, $7.50. With San Clemente rock: Foundation, 65 cents;
substructure, 45 cents; superstructure,
$1.40; concrete, $7.50.
Heldmaier & Neu, Chicago: Own
rock, foundation, 63 cents; sub-structure, 63 cents; superstructure,
$1.66; concrete, $6.80. With San Clemente rock, foundation, 41 1/2 cents;
substructure, 54 1/2 cents; superstructure, 72
cents; concrete, $6.80.
Smith & Mallory, Sherrystown, Iowa:
Foundation, 79 cents; substructure, 73
cents; superstructure, $1.45; concrete, $4.
Rudolph Axman & Co., San Pedro:
Foundation, 64 cents; substructure, 70
cents; superstructure, $1.43; concrete, $8.
California Construction Company,
San Francisco: Own rock, foundation, 95 cents; substructure, 95 cents; superstructure, $1.95; concrete, $5.65. San Clemente rock, foundation, 87 cents;
substructure, 85 cents; superstructure,
$2.90; concrete, $5.65.
National Construction Company, New York: Own rock, foundation, $2; sub-structure, $2; superstructure, $2; concrete, $8. San Clemente rock, foundation, 97 1/2 cents; substructure, 97 1/2 cents; superstructure, 97 1/2 cents; con-all parts of the United States, who offered to build the San Pedro breakwater for less than $2,900,000, the amount fixed by the act of Congress that provided for the location of the harbor. For months after the Harbor Board appointed by President Cleveretary Alger contended that the work could not be done for less than $5,000,- ifornia challenged him to put the question to the test by advertising for bids. He should not be convinced of his error, when so many firms that make a business of doing contract work, enter into competition to secure the work at one-half or less of the Secretary of War's estimate.

HANNA GUILTY

Such the Findings of the Committee.

Memorial Will Be Sent to the National Senate.

This Implies a Resolution to Unseat Him.

Partial Report Will Be Presented to the Ohio Senate Tuesday—Will Cover the Otis Case Only—Other Investigations to Be Made.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
COLUMBUS (O.), Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Ohio Senate Bribery Investigation Committee will make a report finding Senator Marcus A. Hanna "guilty of attempting to bribe Representative John C. Otis of Cincinnati, through his (Hanna's) duly-authorized agents." Such a report is now being prepared, and will be signed by a majority of the committee. Senator Garfield is expected to submit a minority report. The committee will report next Tuesday if the present programme is carried out. This will be a partial report, covering the Otis case only.

The report will embrace a memorial to the United States Senate, asking that such action be taken as is provided by law in such cases, which means a resolution to unseat Hanna.
It is said there will be votes enough to adopt the report. But little testimony will be taken by the committee between now and Tuesday.

After the committee has reported to the Senate, it will go to Cleveland. There it will undertake to investigate the political methods of Senator Marcus A. Hanna. While in Cleveland the committee will endeavor to secure the testimony of Maj.
Dick, Senator Hanna, and other leading lights of the Hanna faction of the Republican party. From Cleveland the committee will go to Cincinnati to investigate Senator Hanna's political methods in that city.
Following the Cincinnati trip, probably the committee will undertake the investigation of the charge of the attempt to bribe Senator Lake F.
Jones, although this Jones investigation may be sandwiched in between the Cleveland and Cincinnati trips.

The committee, after the Jones investigation, will investigate any other charges of bribery that may be preferred or have been preferred. The punishment of the men who have refused to testify before the committee will not be attempted until all of the evidence is in. Then the committee will ask the State to have them jailed.

EMPTY THRONE

King James First of Trinidad Dead.

Baron Harden Hickey Ends His Life With Poison.

Leaves a Sensational Letter for the Baroness.

Says He Prefers to Be a Dead Gentleman to a Living Blackguard.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
EL PASO (TEX.), Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Baron Harden Hickey, the French nobleman who achieved notoriety by making himself King of Trinidad, an island off the coast of Brazil,
and who was son-in-law of H. M.
Flagler, the Standard Oil magnate, committed suicide here today by swallowing enough morphine to kill half a dozen men. Hickey had been in this city exactly one week. He came here from Mexico, and was a guest at the Plesion Hotel, and was seen alive by the clerk at 7:30 o'clock last evening, when he retired, and at 11:30 o'clock an effort was made to arouse him, but as no answer was received from within the bedroom an entrance was effected through the transom.

The Baron was found upon the bed lying as a foetus in a perfectly natural condition, but it was quickly discovered that he was dead. A large bottle of the morphine containing morphine, with one-third of the contents gone, was evidence of the means employed to produce death. Beside the bed, on a chair, was a farewell letter, written to his wife and addressed to her at Corona (Riverside) Cal. It reads as follows:
"My Dearest—No news from you, although you have had plenty of time to answer my last. I expect to leave this hotel tomorrow, or the day after.
Harvey has written me that he has no one in view for buying my land at present. Well, I shall have drained the cup of bitterness to the very dregs,
but I do not complain.
a dead gentleman to a living blackguard like your father. Good-by. I forgive you your conduct toward me,
and trust you will be able to forgive yourself. Ever affectionately."

Then came a name, evidently a pet name, which no one in the room was able to make out. The letter furnishes the only clue to the motive for the suicide, as among the dead man's effects were found $36 in cash, drafts for $100 on Wells, Fargo & Co., San Francisco, and dozens of medals and insignia of rank. There was also a book, of which the Baron was author, on
"The Ethics of Suicide."

There were numerous papers bearing on his famous scheme for establishing a military colony on the island of Trinidad, of which he was to be the head, and others bearing on more important projects, which are now made public for the first time. The most startling of these was a plan to place himself at the head of a Royalist uprising in Hawaii, the details of which are furnished in the following letter:
"SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 26, 1895.
"Baron Harden Hickey, Los Angeles,
Cal.—Monseigneur: Your favor of August 16 has been received.
"First—I am the duly-authorized agent of the Royalist party insofar as it is possible for any one to occupy that position under existing circumstances. With the Queen in prison and absolutely cut off from all communications with her friends, it is out of the question for me to carry anything like formal credentials.

"Second—No part of the territory cannot give rise to any constitutional questions, for the reason that the constitution, like the land tenures, are in a state of such utter confusion that only a strong hand can unravel them. And the restoration will result in the establishment of a strong military government. I go down with the expedition I have organized. I shall be in full control of the situation and in a position to carry out all my contracts.

"Third—It is the island of Kauai on which I have established you as an independent sovereign.
"Fourth—My plan is to successively occupy all the islands, leaving the capital to the last. When the others have fallen, the capital, being cut off from all its resources, will be easily taken,
and may very likely fall without effort.
I don't expect, in any case, to have to fortify myself or to take the defensive or to have to issue a call to arms, as I shall have an overwhelming force to join me at once, in addition to those who go with me, who by themselves will be sufficient to carry everything before them without active cooperation from the people there.

"Fifth—The government force consist of about one hundred and sixty men and boys with very imperfect military training, and of whom about forty are officers. They are organized as infantry, and are about six hundred citizens enrolled as a reserve guard, who may be called in case of an emergency, and about one hundred and fifty police. We can fully rely upon the assistance of all the police, and from one-third to one-half of the other troops. And of the remainder, many will under no circumstances engage in a sharp fight in defense of the present government.
There are now on the islands plenty of men and arms to accomplish our purpose, and if my expedition does not get off very soon, the people there will be organized to do the work with-

I think it must be clear to you that the opportunity now offered you will be of incomparably greater value at once than Trinidad would ever be. Still hoping that I may have an interview with you at an early date.

"Respectfully yours,
[Signed] "RALPH S. J. MARKOE."
The El Paso authorities have telegraphed the Baron's wife at Corona, Cal., asking what disposition be made of the remains, but up to a late hour no response had been received.

SKETCH OF HIS LIFE.

[EL PASO (Tex.) Feb. 10.—Baron Harden-Hickey was the first of the royal dynasty of Trinidad. He was born in San Francisco, California, of a Catholic and old royalist family. His ancestors, the Hickeys, originally came from Ireland, having accompanied the British to the island of St. Helena, and later to the island of France. The young Baron was educated at the College of Jesus at St. Ann, and at the University of Leipsic. Here he established a reputation as a first-class and fearless duelist.

When 19 years of age he entered the French Military College at St. Cyr, but he abandoned a martial life on the death of his father in 1873, and devoted his life to acquiring literary and artistic attainments. His first literary work was a translation of the "Globe" into French. He also wrote a number of works in his native language.

In 1878 the irrepressible writer started a weekly satirical paper in Paris called "Le Figaro," which landed him in constant tribulation. It was devoted to the interests of the Royalists, and its editor, the Baron, made 14 appearances in the police courts, paid fines amounting to $300,000, and fought no less than a dozen duels. Among his antagonists were the famous Frenchmen, Taine and De Cuyon. He was eventually compelled to leave France, going to England.

The Baron was thoroughly conversant with the Sanscrit language, and, after studying its literature, determined to devote his religious and literary efforts to the study of the Sanskrit language. In the mean time he met and married Miss Anna Flager, the daughter of the famous American actor, and gave up his intentions in that direction. He then set about starting a new kingdom on the island of Trinidad, but his efforts were interfered with by his plans.

Papers found among the dead Baron's effects indicate that he and his wife could not agree. He carried some very rich jewels in his trunk here, one of them a crown. The Baron arrived in El Paso on the 11th inst., and remained at the El Paso Hotel, not making known his identity. The Baroness has been directed for instructions as to the disposition of the remains.

Mrs. Mary Padden and her family of five children are also supposed to be under the debris.

In a house on Mulberry alley, which was crushed. Nothing has been seen of them since the explosion last night, and it is believed that they are under the debris.

All day long firemen, policemen and other city employees have been working at the risk of their lives, but up to now little progress has been made in clearing away the debris.

The work will be continued without cessation until it is known that no bodies remain buried under the debris.

Towering amidst heaps of smoldering rubbish, threatened to topple over at any minute. Twenty streams are conducted through the ruins, still burning.

A heavy fall of smoke overhangs the desolate scene, and the tired policemen have hard work to keep the fire from spreading.

Many of the bodies of the victims are lying in the streets, and the firemen are working to recover them.

Some of the worst features of the disaster is the loss of life.

It is presumed, however, that Mr. Flager would not come so far as the death of heads of families.

There is no reason to believe that any of the victims were killed by the fire.

It is difficult to get figures, but insurance reports say that the loss is at least $1,500,000.

The total insurance is variously estimated at from $800,000 to $1,250,000.

Chautauque Company, and in the Twelfth-street end, which had their ice-making plant, which occupied the first three floors. This was filled with valuable ice-making machinery, and other property of the Chautauque Company. The base of the building was occupied by the storage company.

Immediately upon the discovery of the fire an alarm was sent in, and was responded to promptly, but owing to the construction of the building, it was practically impossible to fight the fire from without, while the volumes of smoke inside made it impossible to fight it from within. The only walls dividing the great building were closed by heavy iron doors, and these were locked for three hours. The firemen worked, scarcely knowing what they were doing. The iron shutters were inoperable, and the firemen were unable to find any way out of the building filled with smoke and fire.

It would clear for a moment or two, and they would again endeavor to make some headway, but to no avail. Finally, the fire broke through the roof, and shot upward a hundred feet in the air, making that part of the city as black as day.

This was the first note of alarm that started the flight of residents from their homes on Twelfth-street and on Twelfth-street. Women and children started for the streets, barefooted and in their night clothes, bearing what little of their household goods they could carry in their arms. The police were watchful, and the crowds were kept back by fire lines, and the fearful heat of the smoke and fire.

Suddenly, above the roar of the flames and the puffing of the fire engines, which were everywhere, came the more powerful noise of the first explosion. The fall of the falling was followed by destruction and death in thunderous tones. Those within the fire lines were seen to fall in all directions. Those outside the lines were not without the reach of danger. The great puff of air created by the explosion seemed to make everything away and shake the falling walls crashed in the rear of buildings having fronts on Pennsylvania avenue. The side of the Hoover building, on Pike street, was crushed in and fell into the flames. At the Thirteenth-street end of the warehouse the most terrible effect of the explosion was manifest. The entire front was piled into the street.

Explosion followed explosion for an hour, between 12 and 1 o'clock. After the fall of the first shot of cannon, the fire belched forth from the walls in all directions. Burned-out walls came toppling down, and green and yellow flames were rendered almost powerless to act by the sense of awe and terror that the scene inspired. The explosions were followed by a falling of large tanks filled with ammonia, used in the manufacture of ice.

THE TEXTILE INDUSTRY.

STATIONS FOR DEVELOPING RAME, SILK AND FLAX.

One to Be Established in Southern California—Extension of Home-stand Laws—Railway Right-of-way in Alaska.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.] WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—The House Committee on Commerce reported favorably Representative Tracey's bill providing for the compulsory attendances of witnesses before registers and receivers of the Land Office.

At the present time there is no provision of law by which the attendance of witnesses before registers and receivers can be obtained. Frequently property rights of great value are involved in controversies before these officers. They are not judicial officers, although their decisions are of the greatest importance, and the power to punish witnesses for contempt of court in disobeying subpoenas cannot be conferred upon them. This bill authorizes the issuance of subpoenas by registers and the taking of depositions, and provides that the disobedience to such subpoenas shall be punished as a criminal offense.

The necessity for such a law has been frequently urged by the Commissioner of the Land Office, and in the opinion of the committee, the bill should be supplied by the enactment of this bill into law.

Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania has introduced a bill for the development of the ramie, silk and flax-growing industry.

The bill provides for a special agent at $3000 a year, and for a special agent at $1200 each, to attend to the work.

Five thousand dollars is appropriated for each of six stations, established in the States of California, Arizona, New Mexico, Texas, Oklahoma, and Colorado, with a view of developing ramie, silk and flax preparation, manufacture, production and profitable home market.

The bill also provides for the establishment of a ramie, silk and flax station in the South Gulf States, for ramie, and silk, and one in the South Pacific States, for ramie, silk and flax.

Where the special agent can procure the most assistance and cooperation from the people and capitalists in locating and developing the industry.

Representative Slayden of Texas has introduced in the House a bill forbidding the transportation of goods in bond to the United States.

Senator Carter of Montana has prepared an amendment to the act extending the homestead laws and providing for the location of lands in Alaska.

It is further provided that those who locate lands in Alaska in conformity with the law of the United States applicable to the public domain or who have occupied and improved lands in Alaska shall be entitled to such claims as by compliance with the laws of the United States and the local rules and regulations not in conflict therewith. Native-born citizens of the Dominion of Canada, who have acquired the rights of mining rights and privileges accorded to citizens of the United States in British Columbia and the Northwest Territories, shall be entitled to the same rights and privileges in Alaska and Canada or the local laws, rules and regulations.

Delegate Smith of Arizona has introduced a bill to amend the act providing for the construction of a sewer and water system.

The bill provides that if the people of Prescott so desire at a special election held for the purpose, not more than $15,000 of bonds may be issued for a water system, and $35,000 for a sewer system. Bonds may be sold publicly at not less than par, after thirty days public advertisement.

MARRIOTT.

Sammy Waller Indicted.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10.—The grand jury today returned an indictment against Samuel L. Waller, a member of the City Board of Education, charging him with felony.

His bail has been fixed at $5000. He will be arrested tomorrow morning.

Charge against him was preferred by Bill T. Shepherd, an attorney, and is that he had conspired to secure the appointment of Shepherd's daughter as a teacher in the school department.

MUCH FILIBUSTERING DONE IN THE LOWER BRANCH.

Two Bills of Minor Importance Occupy the Time—Mr. Handy Attempts to Repeal the Thomas F. Bayard.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—During the entire session of the Senate today the Indian Appropriation Bill was under consideration. The reading of the bill was completed, and all of the amendments were adopted. Subsequently several amendments of a minor character were attached to the measure.

Mr. Allen of Nebraska enlivened the proceedings a few minutes before adjournment by making an attack upon Speaker Bailely and preventing the enactment as the Nebraska Senator declared, of meritorious legislation sent to the House of Representatives by the Senate. Mr. Allen said that the action in this regard was a "disgrace" to Congress and to the American people.

At a point of order was made against him for the use of improper language concerning the other branch of Congress. Mr. Allen said that he was stating only the truth, and that he was responsible here or elsewhere at any time for his statements.

It was expected to conclude the consideration of the pending bill today, but when an appeal was taken from the ruling of the Vice-President, an amendment offered by Mr. Thurston of Nebraska was not in order, the point of order was made by Mr. Allen that a quorum was not present. A roll call disclosing the absence of a quorum, the Senate adjourned.

The House occupied the whole session in filibustering against two bills of minor importance, one to issue a duplicate check and the other to make Rockland, Me., a port of entry. Either got further than the engrossment and third reading. The trouble arose over the enforcement of the rule against the use of the "poor man's amendment" when Mr. Handy, a Democrat of Delaware attempted to reply on the floor during the consideration of those bills. Mr. Handy said that he was a Democrat, and in denunciation of the freer trade policy. Roll call followed roll call all day long, and passing the bill on the floor. Finally, when it came all evening, not a quorum could be made with the

TUNNEL OPEN AGAIN.

SANTA FE TRAINS RUNNING BY THE OLD ROUTE.

Task of Reconstructing the Passage Through the Mountains Has Been Tremendous.

MUCH FREIGHT TO MOVE.

OVER TWO THOUSAND CARS ARE BOUND WESTWARD.

Gov. Budd Takes No Cognizance of Wooden Railroad Building in Northern California.

Figel Murder Trial.

WILLIAMS (Ariz.), Feb. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The tunnel at Johnson's Canon on the Santa Fe Pacific road, which has been the scene of so much disaster and loss of life during the past month, is once more reopened for traffic. The first train will pass through, going west, shortly after 12 o'clock tonight. The timbering of the tunnel has been done in a very thorough manner, and it is considered to be in better condition than ever before. The task has been a tremendous one, and the workmen have been beset by every danger, besides the discouraging fire the second time, after the tunnel was partly reconstructed. That portion of the road between Albuquerque and the West will be taxed to its utmost capacity to handle the freight which has accumulated along the line between this point and Albuquerque. There are over two thousand cars of freight bound for the West, and at Ashfork, the junction west of the tunnel, there are nearly three hundred cars waiting to be sent East.

Nearly every yard at the different stations along the Santa Fe is packed with cars, and for a few weeks the road will present a scene of animation never equalled before. Besides all this, there has been an immense amount of freight, perishable matter, which had to be transferred over the Southern Pacific.

This disaster will be remembered by the Santa Fe as the most costly in the history of the road. That section of the road in which the tunnel is located is known as the "hill." There are two stretches of three-per-cent. grade, and on the lower one of these, about a year ago, an engine exploded, while on the upper one, only three months ago, occurred the wreck in which several of the train crew lost their lives. Besides these there have been many minor mishaps, and for this reason railroad men are superstitious about the "hill."

On the night of January 1 the brig Minora, from Newcastle to Sydney, foundered at five minutes' notice, ten miles off Broken Bay. All hands, six in number, except Capt. Gallant, who was in the water, floating on a piece of wreckage, for nearly twenty-four hours.

The Japanese ship was sent to the bottom with her cargo, the crew being saved. Chinese merchants of Hong Kong, Yokohama and Kobe have entered into a compact not to load their goods into the ships of the Japanese Fuso Kaisha in their transportation between Hong Kong and respective Japanese ports. The agreement will be put into practice commencing with the steamer Inada Maru, which left Yokohama January 22 for London.

It is learned that the rebellion in the Philippines has been crushed. The rebel leaders, Emilio Aguinaldo, Mariano Llanero and others were paid large sums by the Spaniards to leave the islands by the steamer Inada Maru, which left Yokohama January 22 for London.

A captain of the Russian army has arrived at Peking as military adviser of the Chinese government. An attempt has been committed by Japanese artisans on Mr. Sands, Secretary of the United States Legation at Seoul. The attack was unprovoked and the police did not intervene. Mr. Sands, however, held one of his assistants and compelled the police to arrest him. Afterward a complaint was lodged by the United States Legation, and the Japanese authorities have arrested various persons supposed to have been engaged in the affair.

WANT A MONOPOLY.

Speckles Trying to Get All of the Hawaiian Trade.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

HONOLULU, Feb. 3.—[Wired from San Francisco, Feb. 10.] It is understood that the Pacific Mail Company will make another proposition to the Speckles, who control the Oceanic line, running to the colonies via Honolulu, to run a line to the Hawaiian Islands. The proposition shall be accepted, the China and a new fast boat will ply between San Francisco and Sydney, while the Speckles' steamers, Mariposa and Alameda, will both be put on the Hawaiian route.

The Molokai ranch, belonging to the Bishop estate, was sold at auction yesterday for $250,000. The purchaser was A. D. McLennan, a Boston capitalist, who intends to start a sugar plantation. Eight thousand dollars was the original cost of the property.

The Hawaiian Government Band, with its leader, Capt. Berges, may leave this year for Omaha to spend a month at the Transmississippi Exposition.

Rev. D. P. Birnie, pastor of the Central Union Church, has resigned, and will return East as soon as his successor shall be appointed. Mr. Birnie came here three years ago from Boston, resigning the pastorate of the Allston Church.

CLIPPERTON ISLAND CASE.

A Suit That Will Settle the Nationality of the Spot.

[CHICAGO AND SYDNEY DISPATCHES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10.—The question of the national sovereignty of the island of Clipperton, which belongs to the United States, was brought up before Judge Sewall in a case that came up for trial before him today. The man who discovered the island, a seventeenth-century discovery by a French navigator, shall be allowed, is the plaintiff in the case.

The suit is that of Permen against the Oceanic Phosphate Company. The plaintiff, Capt. Permen, claims that while cruising in the Cape Cushing early in the eighties in the region of Clipperton Island he discovered it. When he returned to San Francisco he reported his discovery to the State Department, under the provisions of the Federal statutes, and claimed the right to the immense deposits of guano on the island. He was induced to transfer his claims to the island and the deposits to a corporation, which was formed for that purpose, the Oceanic Phosphate Company, one of the defendants in this suit. This was done and now practically the whole of the stock is claimed by these persons. The State Department has been communicated with and the decision rendered in this case may settle the question of which national flag is entitled to float over this small but commercially valuable spot.

SOME FAST SAILING.

Quick Voyage of Clipper Ships from San Francisco to Honolulu.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

HONOLULU, Feb. 3.—[Wired from San Francisco, Feb. 10.] Not since the days of clipper ships have the performances of the ships Henry B. Hyde and S. P. Hitchcock, which arrived here on the 20th and 29th ult., respectively, been equaled. The Hyde arrived here at sundown on the 20th, after a sensational run of 9 days 4 1/2 hours from San Francisco, the time recorded from anchorage to anchorage being 7 days 11 hours. The Hitchcock arrived here at sundown on the 29th, after a sensational run of 9 days 7 1/2 hours.

As nearly as can be learned, but one sailing vessel has ever beaten the record of the Hyde. She was the famous old clipper ship Fair Wind, built for speed rather than for carrying capacity. She is reported to have made the run in 8 days 17 hours. The Hyde's smallest day's run was 210 miles, and her greatest 290 miles.

MARTIAL LAW NEEDED.

Skaguay and Dyea Overrun by the Lawless Elements.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SEATTLE (Wash.), Feb. 10.—Kenney, who left Dawson City, January 16, arrived here tonight on the City of Topeka. He reports everything quiet at Dawson. All of the miners are busy at work.

Dr. Rufus Smith of Dyea, who was also a passenger on the City of Topeka, brings with him two petitions, which are signed by the leading citizens of Skaguay and Dyea, asking the War Department to declare martial law in the Territory of Alaska, and to send troops to the Territory to suppress the lawless element outnumbering the law-abiding citizens.

The officers of the City of Topeka report that a body can be seen floating around in the wreck of the steamer Corona. It could not be identified.

TWO STEAMERS SAIL.

SEATTLE (Wash.), Feb. 10.—The steamers City of Seattle and Noyo sailed for Alaska today. The City of Seattle carried 600 passengers and the Noyo 200.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10.—The City of Seattle left here this morning with about two hundred gold-hunters, destined for Dawson by way of Dyea and Skaguay. In the afternoon the steamer Albatross left with another crowd of fortune-seekers, whose destination is Copper River. From here she took eighty passengers, and at Seattle 140 more will embark. On Saturday the steamer City will leave with about one hundred and seventy passengers and the wrecking scow Whitehawk will also sail with a number of passengers.

TOO GOOD TO BE TRUE.

VANCOUVER (B. C.), Feb. 10.—It is reported that a great discovery has been made on the American side of the Yukon country. Fritz Benzen of Victoria, B. C., writes to his brother, Karl Benzen, as follows: "We have struck it rich on an unknown creek across the border, never before seen by man. In the crevices of the rocks in one day we picked up $30,000 in coarse gold. Sell your business or give it away, and come quick with ten men."

The Benzens have large business interests in Vancouver, B. C., and are said to be reliable.

Several Klondikers were interviewed as to the probability of this report being true. The richness of the reported discovery seems so fabulous as to create in their minds a doubtful impression as to its truthfulness.

ANOTHER LOAD OF ARGONAUTS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

VANCOUVER (B. C.), Feb. 10.—The steamer Tees has left for Alaska. She carries 777 sacks of bacon, part of the provisions being sent in by the United States relief expedition, which will be allowed to go through Canadian territory duty free. Nearly 100 passengers were aboard the Tees.

AT SEA BUILDERS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10.—Among the passengers on the steamer Mariposa, which arrived today from Australia, were fifty stalwart miners, who are on their way to the Alaskan gold fields. Some of them stated that at least 5000 people would leave Australia for the gold fields during the next few months.

JUDGES OF THE BEST

And those who insist upon having the finest that can be obtained, have not been slow in discovering that the approval of the government of any article means a great deal.

It is not surprising, therefore, that so many people with educated palates and discriminating minds are using the popular "O. F. C." whisky in preference to any other. A well-known gentleman, speaking on this subject, recently said: "I do not agree with the man who stated that 'all whiskies are good.' My experience has been that most of them are bad; but when I find the government guarantee by its official stamp that every bottle of 'O. F. C.' whisky is 100 per cent. proof, and when I find upon tasting and noting the after effects how pleasant it is to take, and how fine in its effects, it does not take me a moment to make up my mind what to do, and that is to use it regularly. I find it all that I can desire." There are thousands of people in the community who have made the same discovery, and the number is increasing every day.

DRY BULB TEMPERATURE.
Los Angeles 48 San Francisco 48
San Diego 46 Portland 41

Weather Conditions.—The pressure continues high over the mountain and plateau regions, accompanied by cold weather, freezing temperatures being reported from Nevada eastward. Light rains have fallen in Western Oregon and Washington in the past twenty-four hours. Fair, cool weather prevails in California, though the temperature has risen slightly. Light frost occurred this morning in the low grounds at Los Angeles.

Forecasts.—Local forecast for Los Angeles and vicinity: Fair weather tonight and Friday.

WEATHER FORECAST:
SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10.—For Southern California: Fair Friday, with increasing cloudiness in the afternoon; westerly winds.

ALL ALONG THE LINE.

The San Francisco Bulletin thinks that: "The spectacles daily afforded by Fratricides Clark and Bellow weeping like children when discussing their horrible and cowardly crimes are calculated to make every self-respecting baby in the land swear off on tears for good."

"It would seem as though the newspapers of San Francisco really had more than enough home dirty linen to wash, without bothering with the affairs of Los Angeles, the papers of which city are well able to handle their own affairs." So says the Fresno Examiner, and it would seem as though that particular newspaper really knows what it is talking about.

The San José Mercury rises up in defense of its orchards, and reminds people that: "If Santa Clara Valley was the first to suffer from the ravages of the Tasmanian scale, so it was the first to find a remedy for it. That scale, erroneously called the San José scale, is no longer feared in this valley, as the growers had it under subjection long ago."

Wild conjecture is now indulged in by the Oakland Tribune: "If our city and county government plan goes through, Los Angeles will be at her wit's ends to know what to do to keep up with us. It will be almost a death blow to them down there, if, when the next census is taken, Oakland is shown to be the second city in the State." This is what the children do when they say "Let's play 'sposen.'"

The Berkeley Gazette grows nervous, as is evidenced by the following plaint: "While the question of municipal ownership of waterworks and the bonding of the city for the erection of a high school are on the tapis, there is another matter of greater moment than these. From my point of view the great question of the day is, what are we going to do with the squeaking windmill? or rather, what disposition shall we make of the owner of said mill? When an individual is aroused from his mid-night slumbers by what he supposes to be cries of murder emanating from his neighbor's yard, rushes out in his night clothes armed with a tooth pick and lead pencil, with the expectation of finding a first-class killing in full blast, exposing his person to the inclemency of the weather, inviting death from influenza or some other pulmonary disease, only to learn that the whole trouble comes from a squeaking windmill that a bit's worth of oil would render docile for an entire year, we rise in the majesty of our citizenship, and declare that something ought to be done."

FEARS FOR ANDREE.

Lieut. Peary Does not Expect the Arctic Explorer to Return.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]
CRIPPLE CREEK (Colo.), Feb. 10.—Lieut. R. E. Peary has been the guest of Cripple Creek for several days. A committee of citizens escorted him through the mines of the district. Speaking of Andree's journey by balloon in search of the North Pole, Lieut. Peary expressed grave apprehensions for Andree's safe return. He is of the opinion that even if Andree should succeed in landing on the ice in the Arctic region, he would experience great difficulty in gaining control of his balloon so as to continue toward the North or return home. Lieut. Peary thinks that the chances are very meager for Andree ever again to reach land should he descend into the sea, a fate that he fears has already overtaken the courageous explorer.

Lieut. Peary leaves for San Francisco today. He intends to start in July for the polar regions.

Federal Court Notes.

L. Rogers, on motion of Assistant United States District Attorney Finlayson, was admitted to practice law in the Federal District Court yesterday by Judge Welborn.

Edward P. Boshysell, the defaulting Federal grand jurymen, for whom an attachment was issued, appeared before Judge Welborn yesterday with so good an excuse for his absence that the judge was satisfied and discharged him without even a caution.

The appeal of the case of Lung Dick Toy was before Judge Welborn yesterday, and testimony of witnesses for the government was heard. The case was then adjourned until March 9. Some time ago Toy was found guilty of being unlawfully in the country, and was ordered deported by United States Commissioner Owen, hence the appeal.

SUNDAY-CLOSING CASES.

FABIAN TACTICS ADOPTED BY THE DEFENDANTS.

Trial of the Cases Put Off as Long as Possible as Conviction May Result in Revocation of License. Only One Culprit Pleads Guilty.

A number of Sunday-closing cases came up before Justices Owens and Morrison yesterday, and, as was to be expected, a play was made for time in most instances, the object being, no doubt, to wear out the prosecution by endless delay. Under the Sunday-closing ordinance the Police Commission may revoke the license of any saloon-keeper found guilty of violating its provisions. The desire for delay in trying the cases is, therefore, apparent, as the longer they can stave off conviction the longer the violators of the ordinance are cock sure of being able to continue business.

Of the dozen or more saloon men arraigned thus far as the result of the recently-inaugurated crusade against the Sunday liquor traffic, only one has pleaded guilty and expressed a desire to take his medicine and have done with the business with as little delay as possible. This defendant is Harry Wiggins, barkeeper at the Van Nuys. He appeared before Justice Owens yesterday afternoon, and through his attorney, Clarence Miller, pleaded guilty. He was ready for sentence forthwith, but the proposal was so sudden that Justice Owens begged leave for twenty-four hours to consider. As the court has the right to suit its own convenience in such matters, sentence was deferred till 2 o'clock today.

Attorney W. J. Murphy appeared for Henry Timm, barkeeper at the 200 Saloon, East First street, and filed a demurrer to the complaint on the question of the jurisdiction of the Police Court and technical grounds. Justice Owens promptly overruled the demurrer and entered an exception. Mr. Murphy then pleaded not guilty for his client, and demanded a jury trial, which he asked to go over till some time next month. Deputy District Attorney Chambers objected to delay, but March 8 was finally agreed upon as the date for the trial.

Attorney J. H. Krumminger appeared for S. Sciever and Fred Hoppe, barkeeper and proprietor, respectively, of the Palat Saloon, corner of Spring and Sixth streets, and asked that his clients be given more time to plead, as he (the attorney) was sick and unable to defend them at present. A continuance was accordingly granted till February 17. Mr. Hoppe is the defendant who is alleged to have been advised not to plead guilty by a high City Hall official, if he wished to avoid the revocation of his license. It is probable, therefore, that Mr. Hoppe will fight the case for all he is worth.

When the case of C. H. Buchard was called, a doctor's certificate was produced to show that the defendant was too ill to appear in court. His case was, therefore, continued till February 17, at 2 p.m. Buchard keeps the Glencoe at No. 324 South Main street.

Ex-Police Judge Austin appeared as counsel for C. S. Compton, who presides at the Presidio saloon at Sixth and Spring streets. Judge Austin entered a plea of not guilty for his client, and had the trial set for March 9. Although not waiving a jury, the attorney said he would probably do so.

Ah Jack, a Celestial who does chores at The Whisper, Al Levy's bar on Third street, was jacked up for being so thoughtless as to sell a drink to Special Policeman J. C. Gorman on the holy Sabbath day. Mr. Levy entered a plea of not guilty for his scullion, and had the trial set for February 24 at 9:30 a.m., a jury being demanded.

James T. Madison, a barkeeper at the Turverin saloon, was arraigned before Justice Morrison for plying his vocation during prohibited hours. He pleaded not guilty, waived a jury, and had his trial set for February 14 at 2 p.m.

E. Castellano of the saloon at No. 517 North Main street, was to have been tried before Justice Morrison at 2 o'clock, but his counsel, Louis Gottschalk, appeared at that hour and demanded that trial be by jury. The request was granted, and the case went over till February 18 at 9:30 a.m.

Sixth of an Eye.
 B. TERRY of Ohio, made an interesting experiment with a potato this year. The potato is planted four pieces, each piece one-sixth of an eye. The pieces are planted in seventy-four hills, three inches apart each way. The land was clover sod, the planting being done after a crop of clover had been cut. The crop was mature, but by the time the potatoes were mature, the vines covered the sod and from an exact square rod was cut out six blocks of land, at the rate of 200 bushels per acre. Mr. Terry does not recommend the use of one-sixth of an eye in planting, but he thinks it is a good one. He says his experiment only proves this. He says only potatoes of young vitality would be capable of bringing such a yield as his potato brought. Guide.

BUSINESS.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE TIMES.

Los Angeles, Feb. 10, 1898.

MONEY IN ABUNDANCE. According to the Financial Letter of San Francisco, an abundance of money exists in that city at present, and heavy balances in cash are held by financial institutions, especially the savings banks. The managers of these concerns are seeking employment for this surplus, and naturally turn to the bond and stock market as a means to invest.

COMMERCIAL.

SHIPPING GREEN ORANGES. How the shipment of green oranges from this section hurts the reputation of Southern California is shown in the following letter from an Indiana lady to her Riverside agent:

"What is the matter with the market for California oranges? Everybody here buys Florida oranges in place of California fruit, and I don't blame them, for the California oranges are so bad. I think the California people make a great mistake by shipping oranges so early, when they are green and sour. The people here in the East buy them once or twice and then remark that they don't want any more California oranges; and most of the time Florida oranges sell for 10 or 15 cents more than California. I haven't bought many this year, for I don't care enough for them; but, of course, what fruit I have bought has been from California. I couldn't go back on my own product. I told Lora to tell you to send me a couple boxes of oranges as soon as you had a chance. I want to show some of them what good California oranges are."

The practice is certainly an undesirable one, but it is difficult to get growers to stop shipping from this section before the fruit is ripe as long as they are offered a good price for it. More evidence of the same kind comes from Perris, in Riverside county. The Riverside Press says:

"F. J. Fogg of Perris is an orange-grower. He owns one of the finest groves on the west side of Perris. He used to be a fruit dealer in the Far East. 'Not long ago Mr. Fogg wrote to a gentleman with whom he used to be engaged in business—a man in whom he has the utmost confidence—and asked him what he thought of the chances of going to take some California oranges. The reply was in substance as follows:

"Early in the season I bought a carload of Riverside oranges. I had heretofore handled Florida fruit, but determined to buy California. The result was disastrous. I had to sell them at a loss. I haven't finished compromising and rebating on account of that car of fruit yet. My customers tried faithfully and hard to work it off at any old price, and in many instances failed utterly and wholly."

"I suppose you have full ripe fruit now, but the Riverside fruit has a hard name, and you might as well kill it for all of my customers. I fear I could not sell them—even your best fruit, at lowest prices."

HONEY AND GLUCOSE. A former resident of Redlands writes from the East to his friends in this city that the professor of agriculture in Yale College, who is quite interested in strained honey, had been using strained honey in his laboratory, and it had found it to contain too much glucose. This adulteration has been undoubtedly added in the East, as glucose is not used by beehives in this section.

HIGHLAND ORANGES. J. J. Valentine, president of Wells-Fargo Express, following his usual custom, has this year sent a number of boxes of choice oranges to friends and customers in various parts of the world, selecting the best fruit that he could find. This year he has again sent fruit from Highland, although the boxes of oranges have been shipped by Mr. Valentine.

THE RAISIN SITUATION. A review of the raisin situation in a late number of the Fresno Examiner states that up to January 1, 1898, the raisin crop in California was estimated at 2500 carloads to the same date last year. This would indicate a crop at least equal to that of last year. The report of the secretary of the Southern Pacific Company of Commerce states, upon the authority of the Southern Pacific Company, that 1501 cars only have been shipped to eastern points. The Examiner states that there is practically no demand for seedless Sultanias or Thompsons, their place being taken by the machine-seeded raisins.

A SHORTAGE OF WHEAT. The London Agricultural Gazette declares that both buyers and sellers of wheat on both sides of the Atlantic have failed to realize the extent of the "statistical position," that estimates indicate a deficiency in relation to consumption of 240,000,000 bushels, and if recent anticipations are trustworthy, at least 300,000,000, that visible stocks are the lowest in seven years, and that the fact of free movement of wheat supply so far from the deficiency will prove all the more pinching later on, compulsion reducing the consumption in the spring and early summer. And yet May wheat option prices are 7½ cents lower than December, and July 7½ cents lower. "With all their paper wheat, they cannot add one grain to the supplies, but what those who believe in the power of gambling can do, they can do, and are doing so to keep prices low while farmers have any considerable quantity of wheat to sell. Then the bears will become bulls for a time, and prices will be run as they were last June."

GENERAL BUSINESS TOPICS.

LOBSTERS BECOMING RARER.

The Massachusetts Fish Commission gives it as their well considered opinion that the lobster is about to disappear from Massachusetts waters. There have been carefully framed laws for the protection of this complicated and valuable crustacean, but they do not seem to protect. The lobster catch in Massachusetts has decreased nearly 50 per cent. in the last ten years.

This should open a good market for the California lobster, which is really not a lobster, but a crawfish, yet is so much like a lobster as not to be distinguished from it when canned. The real lobster has been taken in California waters, and may before long become plentiful.

ENGLISH STEEL PLANT IN AMERICA. It is reported from Birmingham, Ala., on what is presumed to be excellent authority, that an English syndicate has decided to build a $1,000,000 steel plant in Birmingham, and with this end in view has, through local experts, secured options for iron ore lands in the West. The most interesting feature of today's stock market was the manner in which it regarded the Spanish Minister's resignation. In view of the fact that the recent pact to everything connected with the Cuban question, its disregard of an American minister's resignation was not noteworthy. The view taken of the subject in Wall street was that the possibility of a change in the administration of Spain was a matter in which the United States had no interest, and in which the United States had no interest.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

EGGS, BUTTER AND CHEESE.

Eggs have taken a plunge down the toboggan slide toward the lower prices that generally rule at this season of the year. Sales yesterday were made at 12½¢ per dozen, but the bottom seems to have dropped out and the rock will probably be reached in a few days. It is usual for eggs to be weak at this time of year. EID HIM GOOD-BY.

The "Bachelors' Table" Banquets Dr. Fleming.

For days, even the memory of man runneth not to the contrary, for nobody knows when it began, seven bachelors have occupied one table in the dining-room of the Hotel Lincoln. The table has long been known as the "bachelors' table," and many a winsome maiden and many an anxious mamma have cast longing eyes toward it as the seven invincibles would nightly file into place and swap stories in an undertone.

But the commination has been broken; one has gone, and now that the net has begun to unravel out, there is no telling where it will stop, or what will happen to the six who remain. The gaze upon a vacant chair and wonder who will be the next to follow in the footsteps of Dr. E. W. Fleming, who was married yesterday to Miss Francis Alexander.

When Dr. Fleming made the announcement to his fellow-bachelors that he was about to leave them, the sterner felt upon them, and they simply gasped. Louis Vetter started to protest against the desertion, and Dr. W. Kirkland chirped in, but when they heard the name of the prospective bride, they had not another word to say.

Just what to do with Dr. Fleming before he left the bachelors' table forever was the next question. It was finally decided to give him a banquet, so that when he remembered it he would be sorry that he couldn't be a bachelor and a benefactor both at once.

Once the bachelors lost no time in perfecting their plans. A happy thought was a souvenir bill of fare issued for the seven who were to remain, and the portrait of Miss Alexander as the festa queen.

The elaborate menu was interspersed with apt quotations. For instance, "It's a condition which confronts us—not a theory," and "Send him many years of sunshine days," etc.

The table had been specially set for the occasion. The chair usually occupied by Dr. Fleming was vacant and draped in mourning, a great stand of calla lilies occupying it instead of the bachelor. At each plate was a boutonniere of violets, and the center of the table was handsomely decorated with a floral piece surmounted with a tiny card, which read, "The lost to sight, to memory dear thou ever wilt remain."

The guests filed in as follows: Louis F. Vetter, James Murray, D. W. Kirkland, W. E. Barnwell, Charles D. Dolinger, J. W. Jones, and last, because, as a bachelor he was supposed to be dead, Dr. Fleming. Be it added that he was the happiest-looking corpse that ever escaped a newspaper.

Each of the guests, except the "departed" bachelor, wore an elaborate streamer of crepe tied around his left arm, and they took their seats with becoming solemnity.

But that settled it. The dining-room of the hotel has doubtless witnessed many a jolly gathering, but none so jolly as the bachelors' farewell to their comrade. A dinner of many courses, "from soda to hock" and back again, followed with toasts and speeches from all the bachelors, and a happy reply from the doctor, which amounted to a statement that "he was sorry to leave them, but was awfully glad he was going to do it," and he added that he hoped the other bachelors would see the error of their ways and reform.

A beautiful cut-glass decanter and glasses were presented by the surviving six to Dr. Fleming, and then the formal resolution declaring him "out of the fold" was passed, and the table adjourned.

THE SIGNAL CORPS.

Receives at the New Army—An interesting programme.

The Signal Corps of the First Brigade, numbering forty-three members, had its day yesterday at the opening of the new Army at Eighth and Spring streets.

Over a thousand people visited the Army during the afternoon and evening. During the afternoon the carrier pigeons took messages from ladies to a station a mile away and the messages were then repeated back by the heliograph, and the corps were returned to the senders as souvenirs. In every case the messages were carried safely and promptly and were correctly repeated.

In the evening the large crowd was entertained by a dance, light refreshments being served by the boys in their quarters.

The reception was one of the most successful of the week, and the Signal Corps is consequently jubilant.

On Tuesday, February 22, Washington's birthday, the Santa Fe will sell excursion tickets to Redlands and return at $2.75. At least six companies will participate in the competitive military drill, for which large cash prizes are offered to the best drilled company. Special trains will be run to accommodate the crowd.

Excursion to San Fernando Mission Tuesday, February 15. Delightful carriage drive through orange groves, and the largest olive orchard in Southern California, and an old-time Spanish hacienda at old mission, at merely nominal cost. Train leaves Arcade depot at 11:50 a.m. Returning arrives 8:40 p.m. Southern Pacific ticket office, 225 South Spring street.

HARES AND HOUNDS.

Entries for Sunday's Coursing Matches at Agricultural Park.

The drawing of dogs for Sunday's coursing matches took place last evening at the club headquarters, No. 143 South Broadway, before the usual large crowd. Sunday's coursing is a thirty-two-dog consolation stake for a purse of $100, with a much better class of dogs than are usually seen in consolation events. Besides the coursing, the triplet ridden by Lacy, Cromwell and Palmer will go against Bob Hackney's running horse, Prince Hooker, again for five miles, the horse conceding the wheelman a quarter of a mile.

Sunday week and Tuesday there will be a sixty-four-dog stake for a purse of $200, for which some of the best dogs in the southern part of the State are entered.

Beside other business, the club ruled Dr. Wilders and Dr. Van Hummel off the field for the part taken by them in the San Pedro entry last Sunday.

ALLEGED WORTHLESS CHECK.

Given for Klondike Outfit by a Bidding Argonaut.

One man's desire to reach the Klondike proved so strong that to get an outfit it is said he resorted to forgery. His name could not be learned, but according to report he passed a worthless check for $30 on J. F. Grana, No. 126 North Main street, in paying for certain articles of Klondike clothing. The check was drawn on the Citizens' Bank of this city, and for the occasion he used the name of T. E. Skeels. It is known positively that the man intended to leave for Alaska yesterday on the steamer Alice Blanchard, and no doubt he expected to get away before the nature of the check could be discovered. The bank, however, could not get off yesterday, and Detective Goodman left last night at midnight for San Pedro, and will doubtless have little trouble in picking his man out from the passengers booked, as he had a complete description of him.
